Think Outside the Box and OutSource

THE DEVIL IS IN THE DETAIL

At ADDMORE, our Architects and Industrial Engineers are experienced in Dimensional Stone Drawings and cut sheets for custom specialist one-off projects and standard commercial repetitive projects.

Having worked in Hotels, Casinos, and Superyachts, our understanding of detailing is at the highest level.

We also think, when detailing, how to make the production for on-site installation the simplistic possible as the labor costs on the job site are harder to control with so many third parties involved and situations beyond your control.

We also think about the size and complexity of items considering entry to a job site via hoists and tight corridors.

Joints are thought out, coding, numbering and referencing of pieces are logical and drawing referenced.
